(U) PARIS AND ROME/TRIP REPORT ~~(S)~~

(U) PURPOSE: To report on the TSCM inspections of Legal Attache
Offices Bern, Bonn, London, Paris and Rome. ~~(S)~~

SYNOPSIS: TSCM inspections were conducted of Legal Attache Offices Bern, Switzerland; Bonn, Germany; London, England; Paris, France and Rome, Italy. All TSCM inspections consisted of physical and electronic searches, radio frequency checks and physical and technical examinations of all telephones and telephone lines. No evidence of any eavesdropping was noted during these inspections, however, several discrepancies were
(S) noted in Legat offices Paris and Rome. [redacted] the Paris b1
Legat Office has a common wall with the adjoining building [redacted]

(S) [redacted] cleaning personnel are unescorted in the Legat Office space, and the office needs venetian blinds and/or draperies. Rome analyst support employee should be advised that the telephone lines may be monitored by the host country and that sensitive subjects or personal comments criticizing local government personnel should be avoided. The Bonn and Rome Legat Offices should be provided with AT & T Merlin electronic telephone systems with the Key Service Unit installed
(U) in office space controlled by the respective Legat Office. ~~(S)~~

(U) Rome Legat Offices. (S)

(U) 2. That a threat assessment, both physical and technical, be conducted at the Paris and Rome Legat Offices by expert personnel in both disciplines in order that inadequacies mentioned be corrected at the earliest time possible. (S)

(U) 3. That all cleaning personnel be escorted while in the Paris Legat Office space. (S)

(U) 4. That venetian blinds and/or draperies be installed in the Paris Legat Office. (S)

1. PEC 9400 - 078 5 button
2. PEC 9400 - 079 10 button
3. PEC 9400 - 080 34 button (Has no lights on the last 20 buttons)

However, it is recommended that one Merlin telephone model Z7305H02B, 34 button unit with lights on all buttons, be modified as the PEC 9400 - 080 and used in order that support personnel can determine when Agent personnel are on one of the telephone extensions or the outside telephone line. This telephone unit would have to be modified by AT & T in order to meet the technical security requirements set by the Intelligence Community. Additional details on this can be obtained from SSA [redacted] (X) b6 b7C

(U) London: No discrepancies or evidence of eavesdropping was noted during the TSCM inspection. (X)

(U) Paris: During the TSCM inspection at the Paris Legat Office space several discrepancies were noted and they are as follows: (X)

[redacted] The office has an on-line KW/crypto system with a mechanical model 28 teletype. This teletype
(U) system is so loud when printing that it may be possible to pick up acoustical sounds from the adjoining building. (Office layout is enclosed) ~~(S)~~

(U)

2. The cleaning personnel (French nationals) have full access to all areas of the office space with the exception of the vault area. They are not escorted by either Legat Office or U. S. Marine personnel. ~~(S)~~

(U)

3. The office space does not have draperies or venetian blinds, therefore, most office space is exposed to full view from adjoining apartments and other offices. Although all windows have awnings, most of these awnings do not work properly. ~~(S)~~

4. The entrance to the Legat Office is controlled by a switch located on each desk, however, Legat Office personnel do not have means of knowing the identity of any person wanting access to the office space. Although this may be true of most other Legat Offices, the Paris Legat Office is located outside of the U.S. Embassy and it should have a closed circuit television so that office personnel can observe people wanting access to the Legat Office. (S)

(U) Rome: During the TSCM inspection of the Rome Legat Office space, the following discrepancies were noted: (S)

1. The Key Service Unit for the multi-line telephones used in the Legat Office was located outside of the office.

(U)

[redacted] (S) b7E

(U)

[redacted] (S)

3. While conducting the TSCM inspection, SSA [redacted] overheard the Legat Office support analyst employee in telephonic conversation with Quantico personnel discussing a case which was investigated [redacted]. During the conversation, the support employee made negative remarks about the way the investigation was conducted by the [redacted] SSA [redacted] advised the support employee that such remarks should not be made of host country personnel as the telephone calls may be monitored. His response was very negative and stated that they [redacted] had to be put in their place for their ineptness. (S)

b6
b7C
b7D

(U)

In addition, the same support employee brought to the Legat Office a set of small Russian wooden dolls that were given to him by a Soviet "friend." These dolls were checked for electronic devices and the check was negative. Since SSA [redacted] does not know the relationship between the support employee and his "Russian friend" from the Russian Embassy or Mission in Rome, the support employee was advised that caution should be taken with gifts from his friend, especially if the gifts are brought to the Legat Office. Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. Bayse
Re: TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE /TRIP REPORT

(U) Above information was brought to the attention of Assistant Legat [redacted] since during this time the Legat Office was under inspection and the Legal Attache was out of town with the Inspector. (X)

In view of the limited office space in the U. S. Embassy, Rome, and the possibility that attempts are being made to relocate the Legat Office, no recommendations are being made at this time and is being left to the discretion of the Intelligence Division. If Recommendation Number 2 is approved, selected personnel to make the physical and technical threat assessments will make the necessary recommendations.

Referral/Direct

(U) It should be noted that several complaints were voiced by most Legat personnel concerning the teletype systems, lack of any word processing equipment and the lack of secure telephone systems. They were advised to express their concerns to the Technical Services Division, Operations Management Section. (X)
